The Measurement of Years.

A thousand cheerful omens give Hope of happier days, whose dawn is nigh.
—Bryant.

THE year 1895 is rich in privileges. In 1795 the number of States was but fifteen, and the population of the republic some four and one half million people. George Washington sat in the presidential chair, and the temporary seat of government was at Philadelphia. The world moved slowly. The telegraph would have seemed a madman's dream. Such events as the Treaty of Basel on April 5, the acquittal of Warren Hastings on April 23, and the establishment of the French Directory on October 28, were not known in America till months afterward. On land travel was by the stagecoach. On the water men sailed in sloops, the attempt of John Fitch to propel a boat by steam, a few years before, having come to naught. The rate of postage for a letter "composed of a single piece of paper," under forty miles, was eight cents; under ninety miles, ten cents; under three hundred miles, seventeen cents; and over five hundred miles, twenty-five cents. Wood was the chief fuel. Though coal had been burned by a blacksmith in the Wyoming Valley as early as 1769, and though the "Lehigh Coal Mining Company" was organized in 1792, this mineral did not come into general use till years afterward. The printing press had hardly advanced beyond the primitive machine of Franklin. Newspapers were few, the total number of copies printed in the United States six years before having been but 76,438 for twelve months. And so the list of contrasts might be largely extended. Who shall say that the latter days are not better than the former?

Historic Eras.

THE year 1895 includes the latter part of the one hundred and nineteenth and the beginning of the one hundred and twentieth year of the Independence of the United States of America. It also corresponds to the year 7403–04 of the Byzantine Era; the year 5655–56 of the Jewish Era; the year 2648 since the foundation of Rome, according to Varro; the year 1313 of the Mohammedan Era, or the Era of the Hegira, which begins on the 24th day of June, 1895. It is also the one hundred and eleventh year of the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Present Standards of Time.

THESE standards have now been in use since the year 1883:

The Eastern Standard Meridian, for the eastern part of the United States, passes very nearly through Ogdensburg, N. Y.

The Central Standard Meridian passes through New Orleans, La., and a little west of Chicago.

The Mountain Meridian passes through the Rocky Mountains very near Pike's Peak, Colo.

The Pacific Standard Meridian is near the Pacific Coast, San Francisco, being about nine and a half minutes of time west of it.

Eclipses, 1895—Standard Time.

In the year 1895 there will be five eclipses, three of the Sun and two of the Moon.

I. A Total Eclipse of the Moon, March 10–11. Visible entire to North and South America, and the Atlantic Ocean, and more or less to Europe, Africa, and the eastern Pacific Ocean.

II. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, March 26. Visible to North America east of Fredericton, N. B., to Greenland, the extreme western edge of Europe, and the North Atlantic Ocean.

CORONA OF SUN DURING ECLIPSE OF 1851.

III. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, August 20. Invisible to America. Visible to Russia.

IV. A Total Eclipse of the Moon, September 3–4. Visible entire to North and South America, and in part to portions of Europe, Africa, Australia, the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

V. A Partial Eclipse of the Sun, September 19. Invisible to America. Visible to eastern Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, and neighboring South Pacific Ocean.

To Find Day of the Week.

By use of the following directions it is claimed that the day of any date in the present century—from 1800 to 1900—may be ascertained:

Divide the year (omitting the century) by 4, adding the quotient after dropping the remainder. To this add the day of the month and its proper complement from the following table. Divide the sum total by 7 and the remainder will be the day of the week, counting Sunday the first. If there be no remainder the answer will be Saturday. Following are the complements of the months:

January	3	June	0
In leap year	2	July	2
February	6	August	5
In leap year	5	September	1
March	6	October	3
April	2	November	6
May	4	December	1

The two following examples clearly illustrate this method. We may, for instance, find on what day of the week the following dates occur:

January 1, 1876.

4)76
19

7)98

14—0

Answer: Saturday.

January 1, 1895.

23

7)122

17—3

Answer: Tuesday.

The above complements are only correct for the present century.

Threescore and Ten.

It is a mixed kind of feeling with which one reaches the top of this Pisgah and peeps over into the mists that hover over Jordan. I felt as if Bryant was old and out of sight on his seventieth birthday, but now—bless me! Why, what did the psalmist mean with his "threescore years and ten?" . . . The horizon flies as we travel westward, the sun goes back as it did for Joshua. At fifty years seventy seems like sunset. At seventy we find it is as yet only cheerful, shining afternoon. Nature has more artifices than all the human conjurers that ever lived.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

DIRECTIONS: Find the month and year required, in the left-hand table. The figure opposite both will indicate the calendar to be used. Thus: January, 1895, gives the figure "3;" hence the third calendar is the one for January 1895, and the New Year is seen to fall on Tuesday.

II.

The Methodist Episcopal Church.

Unmeasured and unlimited,
With noiseless slide of stone to stone
The mystic Church of God has grown.
—Whittier.

IN a recent important address* Bishop Andrews has forcibly portrayed the growth, the spirit, and the possibilities of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It is "the eldest born of English Wesleyanism." When the Conference at Leeds, in 1769, sent out Richard Boardman and Joseph Pilmoor to New York, they "builded better than they knew." No other act on the part of any Methodist Conference "has yielded results so momentous for the kingdom of Christ." Had they been able to foresee "the far-reaching consequences of that day's answer to the call of the feeble society formed by Embury and Webb, a solemn awe would have mingled with their jubilation over the new work in America." The debt of Western Methodism to England for Wesley himself is also "special and great:"

Never shall we be sufficiently grateful for this later apostle of Christianity. Above all his helpers and coworkers he towered conspicuous. His natural ability; his large learning and thorough culture; his resolute and all-embracing consecration; his invincible and buoyant faith; his incessant activity; his practical sagacity, born, in part, of his docile following of divine Providence; his catholicity; his constitutional reverence for the past singularly tempered, through his belief in Christ, with a willingness to "ring out the old and ring in the new;" his long career; and his influence, ever widening with the process of the suns, will cause the Church in the centuries to come to name him in the same breath with Luther, and even with St. Paul. Not alone for himself, but for you and for his children in America, did he speak that word with which he passed to the transfiguring glory: "The best of all is, God is with us."

Another great gift of English Methodism to America was the "apostle" Asbury, of whom the speaker said:

* Delivered on Monday evening, July 23, 1894, before the British Conference, by Bishop E. G. Andrews, D.D., LL.D., one of the fraternal delegates to that body from the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The record of his career moves us with wonder, with admiration, and almost with despair. Such labors, perils, sufferings, triumphs! Sprung from a peasant family of Staffordshire, and untrained in any great English school, Francis Asbury, nevertheless, showed a great and statesmanlike soul. He was made for mastery. For forty-five years, undismayed by the rage of war before which every other English preacher fled, by oppositions, by threats, by bodily infirmity, . . . by the care of all the churches, he pursued his wearisome continental superintendency until, when he died, he left behind him, instead of the few hundred Methodists that he found in 1771, a compact communion of two hundred and eleven thousand members and of more than seven hundred ministers.

The present condition of the Church is one of "marked prosperity." Its membership numbers more than 2,500,000, an increase during the past four years of nearly 300,000. Its Sunday school scholars nearly equal the Church membership. Its itinerant ministry is over 16,000, and its local preachers more than 14,000. Since 1864 the Board of Church Extension has distributed $5,000,000. During the past seventy-five years the Church has endowed academies, colleges, universities, and theological schools valued, beyond indebtedness, at more than $26,000,000. It has twenty-three schools among the 7,000,000 freedmen of the South, and as many among the whites. In the Southern States, since 1864, its white membership has increased from 75,000 to 270,000, and its colored membership from 27,000 to 235,000. Its literature is "copious and excellent." With all American Protestantism it shares in "the support and management of the American Bible Society." Its collections for missions during the past quadrennium have annually averaged $1,100,000. Its hospitals, homes, and orphanages "are commanding a growing support." Its Epworth League has grown with "startling rapidity." In short, these visible facts of our Church life "indicate the presence of strong convictions and deep experiences:"

The Gospel has come to us not in word only, but in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance. We believe, and therefore work with our Lord. His Spirit, as we trust, pervades our life, incorporates us with all believers, and progressively uplifts us into his likeness. With multitudes among us the doctrine of a present and full salvation, the distinguishing tenet received from our venerated founder, is not an idle form of words, but a truth avouched in the innermost sanctuary of the soul, and confirmed by the obvious holiness of the outward life. This deposit, by the help of God, we will sacredly guard.

Summaries of Annual Conferences.

THERE are in 1895 one hundred and forty annual organizations included in the plan of episcopal visitation. They are divided into the three following groups:

I. Conferences. Of these there are one hundred and twenty-one. This includes (1) the North Germany and South Germany Conferences, (2) the Central Swedish and the Western Swedish Conferences—these bodies having first met in 1894. This estimate also includes the Minnesota Northern Conference, formed by enabling act, in October, 1894, by a division of the Minnesota Conference; and covers the consolidation of the Indiana and Southeast Indiana Conferences, by enabling act, in September, 1894.

II. Mission Conferences. Of these there are seven, including the Northern Swedish, which first met in 1894. This estimate does not include the Congo Mission Conference, from which no statistics are received.

III. Missions. Of these there are twelve. This enumeration does not include the Lower California and the Navajo Indian Missions, from which no returns are received.

The following statistics of the Spring Conferences agree with those of the General Minutes for 1894. In the case of a few Fall Conferences the figures of 1893, as indicated by a bracket, are necessarily inserted, the statistics for 1894 not being received when the YEAR BOOK goes to press. The grand totals will, therefore, vary slightly from those of the General Minutes for 1894. The difference will, however, be inconsiderable. The statistics of the Indiana and Southeast Indiana are inserted separately for the last time; those of the Minnesota Northern are included in the figures of the Minnesota.

The returns from ninety-nine Conferences, December, 1894, were as follows:

"The Church of God has made our nation the best of all the earth. All its best things are the fruit of the Gospel. Without the saving power of the Church we would soon be wrecked, and the experiment of free government end in utter and ignominious failure. It is a mistake to suppose that the Almighty is under the necessity of sustaining our nation in order to accomplish his ultimate plans. He can set us aside and raise up another people to do his work. Without integrity, morality, religion, the innate and imported forces of evil will overwhelm and destroy the ship of state. Education, culture, refinement, wealth never perpetuated the safeguards of home, nor the rights and liberties of mankind."—Bishop Mallalieu.

III.

The Book Concern.

The stream from wisdom's well,
Which God supplies, is inexhaustible.
—Bayard Taylor.

METHODISM has never been without its publishing houses and its denominational literature. During the first hundred years of the history of the Book Concern $50,000,000 worth of products "were sent out from New York and Cincinnati," and if the sales of the next twenty years equal those of the previous twenty, it is estimated that they "will reach $4,000,000 a year." Of the establishment and possibilities of the Book Concern, Bishop J. M. Walden, in a recent address,* has said:

All Methodist publishing houses are the outgrowth of the practical plans of the Wesleys for spreading abroad scriptural holiness. These plans were chiefly originated by John Wesley, the more practical of the two remarkable brothers. Nearly every one of the score of branches of episcopal and non-episcopal Methodism has its Book Concern or publishing house. The growth and power of each corresponds with the growth and power of the body to which it belongs. As the Wesleyan Methodist Church of England is the more direct fruit of the labors of the Wesleys, so its Book Concern, in the heart of London, is the more direct result of their plans for the publication and circulation of religious and helpful literature. . . . At the first formal meeting of the Wesleyan itinerants in America, in 1773, only seven years after Philip Embury's first Methodist sermon, it was found that at least one follower of Wesley had been publishing and circulating Wesleyan literature. It occasioned no surprise. Within five years after the Christmas Conference, and three years before the first General Conference (of 1792), the Methodist Book Concern—the oldest connectional institution of the Church—was organized. Thus early and naturally did Methodism—the Wesleyan revival movement transferred from Anglo-Saxon England to Anglo-Saxon America—begin to use the printing press. . . . It becomes us to rejoice to-day in the magnitude and possibilities of our Book Concerns—little less than chief among the things that we have inherited from our fathers—and it behooves our preachers and people to plight themselves anew to the faithful, zealous, constant use of this mighty agency in our revival Church.

* Delivered at the dedication of the new building at Cincinnati, O., February 13, 1894.

Publishing House at New York.

In their last report to the Book Committee, February 14, 1894, the Eastern Agents preface their statement of the year's business with the following reference to the financial stringency of the times, and its effect on the sales of the Eastern House:

Our fiscal year, which closed June 30, 1893, will not be regarded as equal to some of its predecessors in financial results. Although the severest part of the depression in money matters had not been reached, both sales and collections had been materially affected. . . . The large sums paid out in dividends, subsidies, and General Conference expenses have required nearly all our ready cash, leaving but a small sum to be added to our assets.

The business of the fiscal year of 1893, as shown by the report of the Agents to the Book Committee at its meeting in February, 1894, was as follows:

Sales at New York	$745,250 54
Boston	115,328 82
Pittsburg	55,154 15
San Francisco	61,628 35
Detroit	97,085 25
	$1,074,447 11
Less sales by New York to depositories	143,578 74
	$930,868 37
Profits	$89,971 20
These profits were disbursed as follows:
Dividend to Annual Conferences, subsidies to sundry periodicals, Epworth League expenses, etc	$86,480 83
Added to net capital	3,490 37
Total	$89,971 20
Net capital, June 30, 1893	$2,028,977 76

The address of the Agents is 150 Fifth Avenue, New York city.

Depositories.—These are situated at Boston, Pittsburg, Buffalo, and San Francisco. A store is also maintained at Detroit. A notable event in the recent history of the depositories of the New York house was the opening of the new building at Pittsburg on May 10, 1894. The description of the edifice and its dedication may be summarized as follows:

It is situated on Penn Avenue, among the largest retail houses of the city, is eight stories in height, and has a frontage of thirty-one feet, with a depth of one hundred and twelve and a half feet. It is fireproof, steam heated, and lighted with electricity. On the first floor is located the bookstore; on the seventh are the chapel and the rooms of the Pittsburg Advocate; the remaining floors are rented. At the dedication addresses were made by Drs. D. H. Moore, Cranston, Sandford Hunt, Curts, Burt, and J. L. Clark, Dr. D. S. Stephens, Editor of the Methodist Recorder, and Dr. W. J. Shuey, of the United Brethren Publishing House; the formal dedication was conducted by Dr. Hunt. In the evening a mass meeting was held in the Smithfield Street Church, when Dr. Joseph Horner gave a historic sketch, Dr. Homer Eaton delivered the principal address, and others followed in short, impromptu remarks.

The addresses of the agents in charge of the depositories of the New York house are as follows:

Boston: C. R. Magee, 38 Bromfield Street.
Pittsburg: Joseph Horner, D.D., 524 Penn Avenue.
Buffalo: H. H. Otis, 288 Main Street.
Detroit (store): Hunt & Eaton, 189 Woodward Avenue.
San Francisco: J. D. Hammond, D.D., 1037 Market Street.

Subscription Book Department.—This department was organized August 5, 1875. Mr. Henry W. Knight has been superintendent from the beginning. Since its organization twenty separate publications have been issued and fully a million volumes sold. The leading publications of this department are the People's Cyclopedia, in six super royal octavo volumes, which has had a sale of 130,000 sets; Ridpath's History of the World, of which over 80,000 sets have been sold; and Ridpath's Great Races of Mankind, which is now being placed upon the market.

Publishing House at Cincinnati.

A NOTABLE event in the history of the Western Concern during the past year was the dedication of its new building at Cincinnati. This occurred in the chapel of the edifice on Tuesday afternoon, February 13, 1894. Addresses were delivered by Bishop J. M. Walden and Drs. Henry Liebhart, L. C. Queal, and Sandford Hunt. At an evening "felicitation meeting" in St. Paul's Church, additional addresses were given by Drs. Hurlbut, Berry, Hammond, Kelley, Potts, and Buckley, as the representatives of the Church press. In their report to the Book Committee, February, 1894, the Western Agents speak of the new building as follows:

To the best of our ability we have executed thus far the special trust confided to us, in connection with the Local Committee, in the erection of a suitable store and office building for the use of this Concern. . . . Doubtless your satisfaction in the use and occupancy of this convenient and substantial building will be enhanced, as ours has been, by the knowledge that it is paid for, and that funds are in readiness to complete the further improvements contemplated in the original design. . . . We are gratified that it seems to be generally conceded that . . . the architects have given us the most attractive and imposing business front on this chief street of the city. Avoiding needless and extravagant expenditure, it has been the aim of the Building Committee to construct a durable, convenient, well-lighted and ventilated, thoroughly equipped business block, worthy of the Church, the city, and the Concern itself. . . . The building is outfitted for the use of either gas or electric light, and may be heated with only one pound pressure of exhaust-steam. The increased demand for both steam and electricity has been provided for by special machinery already in place.

The business of the fiscal year ending October 31, 1893, as shown by the report of the Agents to the Book Committee in February, 1894, was as follows:

Sales for 1893:
Cincinnati	$645,771 13
Chicago	388,551 19
St. Louis	205,669 23
	$1,239,991 55
Less sales to depositories	193,693 25
	$1,046,298 30
Profits	$138,853 60
These profits were disbursed as follows:
Dividends to Annual Conferences, Epworth League, Judicial Conference, and Book Committee expenses, etc.	$70,506 05
Added to net capital	68,347 55
Total	$138,853 60
Net capital, October 31, 1893	$1,310,094 32

The address of the Agents is Cranston & Curts, 186–188 Fourth Street, Cincinnati, O.

Depositories.—These are located at Chicago and St. Louis. Cranston and Curts are in each case the agents. Their address at Chicago is 57 Washington St., and at St. Louis, 1505 Lucas Place.

The Book Committee.

This body has "general supervision of the publishing interests of the Church." It is elected quadrennially by the General Conference, and has power to fill vacancies in its membership. It consists of one representative from each of the fourteen General Conference Districts, a Local Committee of three from New York or vicinity, and a Local Committee of three from Cincinnati or vicinity. The annual meeting occurs on the second Wednesday of February. The Committee is divided into two sections of ten each. The Eastern Section consists of the members from the seven Eastern Districts with the Local Committee of three at New York; the Western Section comprises the representatives of the seven Western Districts and the Local Committee of three at Cincinnati.

To the Eastern Section "shall pertain the supervision of the Publishing House in New York;" the Western Section performs "the same duties for the Publishing House in Cincinnati." The three members from New York and vicinity constitute a local subcommittee, which meets monthly at the Book Rooms in New York and examines the transactions of the previous month. Its records are yearly submitted to the Eastern Section on the day before the annual meeting of the Book Committee. The local subcommittee at Cincinnati performs similar duties with reference to the affairs of the Western House.

"Who can tell how much the literature which has been sent out from our publishing houses has accomplished in the home and Sunday school toward inspiring our young people with lofty ambitions, and preparing them to take up and carry forward the work so successfully begun by the fathers? Without question it has been a mighty force, uplifting character and inspiring to good works."—Dr. Homer Eaton.

Official Benevolences.

Eyes let me be to groping men, and blind;
A conscience to the base; and to the weak
Let me be hands and feet; and to the foolish, mind;
And lead still farther on such as Thy kingdom seek.

The Missionary Society.

THE seventy-fifth anniversary of this great benevolence was duly commemorated in 1894. On Sunday afternoon, April 15, a "missionary love feast" was held in the old Forsyth Street Church, New York, where, on April 5, 1819, the Society was organized and Bishop William McKendree elected president. At this love feast of 1894 short addresses were made by various ministerial and lay members of the Board of Managers, and the great results of the missionary work of the Methodist Episcopal Church were recalled. On the evening of November 7, 1894, at the annual meeting of the General Missionary Committee in Brooklyn, N. Y., more elaborate exercises were held in commemoration of the organization of the Society. Bishop Thomas Bowman, senior member of the episcopal board, presided. A historical review of the past seventy-five years of Methodist Episcopal missionary work was given by A. S. Hunt, D.D.; a congratulatory address was delivered by R. S. Storrs, D.D., President of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; the fraternal resolutions adopted by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions were read by J. D. Wells, D.D., president of that organization; and an address on Methodism by General J. F. Rusling, of the Board of Managers, concluded the exercises. The Society begins its last quarter century of existence with the wide world for its parish. In Africa, South America, China, Germany, Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, and St. Petersburg, India, Malaysia, Bulgaria, Italy, Japan, Mexico, and Korea, missionary stations have been planted. In the United States the Society is proclaiming the Gospel to the unevangelized masses of the great cities, to foreign born populations, and to the destitute portions of the great South, where the Methodist Episcopal Church now has more than five thousand houses of worship.

Financial Growth.—The receipts of the Society in 1820 were $823.04. Its annual receipts for the last ten years were as follows:

Apportionments.

THE Missionary Committee has called for $1,500,000 for Missions in 1895. Since it is found that the apportionments made to the charges by the Committee of Apportionments, of which the Presiding Elders are members, have been very generally asked for, and have been accepted by a large majority of the Presiding Elders, and that the apportionments to the charges have been somewhat expanded, usually at the request of the Presiding Elders, so that they sustain a rate of apportionment of more than $1,400,000, the aggregates of these apportionments to charges have been adopted as the apportionments of the respective Districts and Conferences, and where these apportionments to charges have not yet been accepted, because the Presiding Elders have not yet cooperated with the Committee of Apportionments in completing them, it has been ordered that they be completed in the same way as those already accepted, and that their aggregates be taken as the apportionments of their respective Districts and Conferences. At the date of going to press the apportionments have not been fully completed. An increase of about five per cent above the aggregate to the charges, as above stated, will be necessary, and some adjustment of the inequalities occasioned by the varying degree in which the apportionments have been increased by the Presiding Elders will also be necessary. So that where the apportionments to the charges have been most expanded there will be little or no increase, and where they have been but little expanded the increase will be larger, and where they have not been expanded at all the increase will be about fifteen per cent.

The Sunday School Union.

ONE fourth of the Sunday schools of the United States are under the care of the Methodist Episcopal Church through its Sunday School Union. This Society was organized by the General Conference June 3, 1840; it is the successor of a Union organized in New York in 1827, which merged into a "Bible, Sunday School, and Tract Society" in 1836. It was incorporated by the New York Legislature February 4, 1852, and its charter was amended April 11, 1874. Its statistical summary, according to its last published report, is as follows:

Total schools, 28,856; of these, in Europe, 869; in Asia, 1,961; in Africa, 36; in Mexico and South America, 102; among immigrants, 1,200. Total officers and teachers, 328,343 ; of these, in Europe, 4,286 ; in Asia, 2,200 ; in Africa, 375 ; in Mexico and South America, 270 ; among immigrants, 14,214. Total scholars, 2,409,874 ; of these, in Europe, 56,071 ; in Asia, 74,813 ; in Africa, 2,738 ; in Mexico and South America, 5,344 ; among immigrants, 70,800. Increase over the previous year of 633 schools, 18,181 officers and teachers, 40,092 scholars. Officers and teachers who are church members or probationers, 289,542 ; increase, 3,083. Scholars who are church members or probationers, 716,149 ; increase, 28,495. Conversions in schools, 119,741 ; increase, 2,775. Receipts for the year, $24,476.58 ; disbursements, $26,142.52 ; treasury in debt, $1,665.94. Schools aided during the year,

A FRONTIER SUNDAY SCHOOL.

3,983. Copies of English periodicals circulated, 34,433,000 ; pages, 467,744,000 ; copies of German periodicals, 2,418,800 ; pages, 20,955,200.

In September, 1894, the Corresponding Secretary of the Union wrote concerning the literature of the Society:

The preparation and circulation of a literature for these Sunday schools of world-wide Methodism is no small task. In our own land no other denomination circulates a Sunday school literature as widely as our own. The aggregate circulation of our lesson papers of all grades for teachers and scholars is 2,706,250, which is more than 432,000 in advance of our Sunday school membership. Add to this 432,000, the circulation of our two Sunday school papers not devoted to the lessons, and we have 3,133,250 copies of our Sunday school periodicals in this country alone. During last year the total number of pages of Sunday school periodical literature issued by the Methodist Book Concern was 488,699,200—almost five hundred million pages. When we look abroad we find that our Sunday school lessons are published in about twenty different languages. Every mission press in South America, in Europe, and in Asia prints our lessons, and all are enabled to do this work by grants received from the Sunday School Union of our Church. On any Sunday of the year we can picture Sunday schools in America from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in Mexico, in Italy, in Germany, in Finland, in Sweden and Norway, in Bulgaria, in India and China and Africa, all studying lesson leaves in their own tongue from the gifts of our Methodist Episcopal Sunday School Union.

The Tract Society.

THIS organization is the third oldest benevolence of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It was instituted by the General Conference of 1852; chartered by the New York Legislature, April 15, 1854; its charter was amended, April 20, 1872. The last printed report of the Society gives the following letter from the State of Washington as an illustration of the applications received for grants of tract literature:

I am a young preacher with no money, and the people I serve have but very little, and scores of unconverted people are all around me. I am a firm believer in the good that tracts do toward saving the souls of men and women, hence this letter asking for a donation of tracts. I have two charges; one is surrounded with sawmills, where ships from all parts of the world are landing, sometimes stopping for months at a time. Our church is only three blocks from wharves, so you see we have the sailors to look after, with lots of fishermen besides. The Catholics are very strong also. The other charge is at a smelter, with all the usual surroundings. A donation of tracts will be used to good advantage and I believe with good results, even to the salvation of some souls. If you think we are worthy, and grant us a supply, I shall be delighted to inform you of the results after using them.

Foreign Work.—The Society has been in the foreign field since 1854, until every mission of the Church has been aided to publish religious literature in its spoken language. Grants have been made to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy, Bulgaria, India, Malaysia, China, Japan, Korea, Mexico, and South America. Some illustrations of the success of the Society in foreign work are as follows:

A missionary in Finland writes:

"You cannot imagine how glad our Finnish-speaking friends were when I told them of your help. They have a long time waited and prayed to God for a religious paper and a hymn book in our doctrine and spirit, and now they will get both before the year is gone."

This is from Switzerland:

"We distribute weekly 25,000 pages, or 1,300,000 pages a year. This labor is hopeful and successful. Not a few persons confess that the tracts have been the blessed medium in producing the first religious impressions upon the soul and the first motive to attend the meetings of our church."

From Italy we have the following:

"We have succeeded this year as never before in selling our papers, tracts, and books. The receipts will not be less than 2,500 lire, or $500. Our weekly paper is still the best evangelical paper published in the Italian language, and is steadily gaining a prominent place among this people. We have received during the year the most flattering comments from professors, editors, and other eminent men."

From Vepery, Madras, India:

"I have heard frequent testimonials of the good done by the tracts and papers designed for native Christians. Only a few days ago a lady told me of the conversion of a poor native man in the hospital through reading one of the tracts that we had been able to publish in consequence of the aid received from your Society."

From Foochow, China:

"Early in the year we issued about 60,000 Sabbath calendar tracts, giving the dates of the (Chinese) year on which our Sabbath comes, together with some religious instruction. Of these 11,000 were on colored paper and illustrated. The 60,000 sheets were issued at a cost of about $60, and probably brought in over $40 from sales among the people."

Statistical Summary.—The last published report of the Society summarizes the work as follows:

The various mission fields have been furnished with funds for printing religious literature, as in former years. Tracts have also been sent to every part of the home field, each Conference being represented in the grants made. They have been distributed to immigrants, to the inmates of hospitals, prisons, and asylums, to soldiers, to sailors, and to pastors for their regular work. Aggregate of these tracts, 16,230,773 pages; number of churches receiving them, 2,400. Receipts for the year, including balance on hand, $26,597.93; disbursements, $25,250.50. Charges contributing, 8,858; not contributing, 4,351. English tracts printed at New York during the year, 1,324,000; pages, 10,425,750; German tracts printed at Cincinnati, 225,000; pages, 1,100,000.

Board of Church Extension.

THE funds of this useful organization are divided into two parts: (1) the General Fund, derived from collections and other sources and available for donations to churches; and (2) the Loan Fund, derived from special gifts and available only for loans. This latter fund was created at the suggestion of the Corresponding Secretary, July 22, 1867. Bishop Kingsley said of it at its foundation: "It don't stop simply with the first blessing. It helps build one church and comes back with the tidings of what it has done, and goes again and builds, or helps to build, another church, and, coming back again, says, 'Here am I, send me,' and goes again and again."

The organization of this Society was ordered by the General Conference, May 27, 1864. Its first managers were appointed January 3, 1865. It was incorporated in Pennsylvania, March 13, 1865. Its first Corresponding Secretary was S. Y. Monroe, D.D., appointed June, 1865, died February 9, 1867. Its first receipts were on October 19, 1865; its first appropriation was made March 5, 1866. Name changed from "Church Extension Society" to present title by the General Conference of 1872. Supplemental act of incorporation February 26, 1873. Its management is vested in the following three Boards;

1. The General Committee of Church Extension, comprising the bishops, officers of the Board, delegates from the fourteen General Conference Districts, and fourteen delegates from the Board. It meets annually in November.

2. The Board of Church Extension, sometimes called the "parent Board." This consists of all the bishops ex officio, thirty-two ministers and thirty-two laymen of Philadelphia and vicinity, and meets on the second Wednesday of every month.

3. The Conference Board in each Conference, composed of equal numbers of ministers and laymen, not less than six nor more than ten in all, so located that a quorum may be convened at any time, the Board being nominated by the bishop presiding and appointed by the Conference.

Latest Statistics.—These were summarized by the Society at its annual meeting in Philadelphia, Pa., November, 1894, as follows:

In the twenty-eight years ending November 1, 1894, the Board has received and disbursed over $5,250,000. Of this amount nearly two thirds has passed through the General Fund available for donations to churches, and one third through the Loan Fund, over $937,000 being in permanent capital for use only as loans, $937,534 having been returned since the foundation of the Loan Fund. By this over 9,400 churches have been helped in various States and Territories. The Board begins the year, November 1, 1894, with conditional grants to 204 churches, aggregating in donations $50,100, and in loans $17,700. It has unconsidered applications yet on file from twenty-one churches, asking in donations $7,050, and in loans $17,500. Total amount needed for work already on hand $92,260. To meet this the Board has on hand in cash and negotiable securities $47,248.42; additional amount needed to provide for present demands, $45,011.58.

Board of Education.

THE establishment of this Society, its purposes, and its authority have recently been described by its Corresponding Secretary in the following words :

This is a connectional Society, having a general directive and supervisory relation to every school and every educational interest of the whole Church. This Board was established by the General Conference of 1868, and is the product of the highest wisdom and the noblest devotion of the Church. It seeks to promote in manifold ways all the educational work of the Church. Up to the General Conference of 1892 the work of the Board of Education, while important and influential, was not as clearly defined as it now is, and did not have the legal status and organic relation to the Church which were given it by that Conference. It now has authoritatively committed to its charge the important work of listing and classifying the educational institutions of the Church in accordance with the requirements prescribed by the General Conference, of determining what institutions meet the requirements demanded for recognition as colleges or universities, of gathering and publishing annually complete statistics of all educational institutions of the Church, of administering a fund in aid of worthy students, of giving counsel with regard to the location and organization of new institutions of learning, and of acting as an agency in behalf of ministerial and general education.

Children's Day.—This interesting occasion is widely observed through the Church. It is believed that between two and three million people last year participated in the exercises prepared by the Board of Education. The observance of the day and the collection thereupon are enjoined in the Discipline as follows:

It shall be the duty of every pastor to cause every Sunday school under his charge to observe the second Sunday in June, or such other Sunday as may be more convenient, as "Children's Day," and upon said day, as part of the service, he shall take a collection to be devoted to the "Sunday School Children's Fund." The pastor in charge shall forward the collection aforesaid directly to the Secretary of the Board of Education, and report the same to his Annual Conference under the head of "Children's Fund;" and all educational money, except the Children's Fund, shall be reported to the Annual Conference under the head of "Other Educational Objects."

Loans.—Money is not donated to applicants, but is loaned. The Society gives preference to Conferences sending their educational collections to the Board and to adult members of Sabbath schools. The following conditions are made in granting loans:

1. The applicant must possess a well-established Christian character and such intellectual qualities and fondness for study as give promise of more than ordinary usefulness.

2. He should have a recommendation from the Quarterly Conference of the church of which he is a member.

3. He should be an enrolled student in some one of our Methodist schools. A few rare exceptions to this requirement are admitted in the case of medical students preparing for missionary work.

4. He must have the recommendation of the faculty of the institution which he is attending, and this recommendation must be repeated each term that he continues to receive aid.

5. He must fill out and sign a blank form of application furnished him by the proper officer of the institution in which he is enrolled.

6. He must sign a note for each loan received.

7. He is legally and morally obliged to pay the notes, according to the conditions printed on them, when he becomes able so to do.

Help Given.—Total of students aided from 1873 to July, 1894, 5,930. The statistics for the last school year are :

Total number aided during school year ending July, 1894, 1,539; of these formerly aided, 790; aided for the first time this year, 749; male, 1,306; female, 233; nationalities included, 24.

The geographical distribution of these beneficiaries, by schools, was as follows :

The intended calling of the one thousand five hundred and thirty-nine students aided is as follows :

N. B.—The want of correspondence between the sum of classified students and the grand total is caused by the incomplete reports from some schools.

The American Bible Society.

THIS Society has, since 1840, received the definite and cordial indorsement of each successive General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. While it cannot strictly be claimed that the operations of the Society extend to the whole world, it is true that they are nearly coextensive with the fields occupied by the foreign Missionary Boards and Societies of the evangelical denominations in the United States.

Foreign Work.—The Society has its own agencies in Mexico, Brazil, Central America, Venezuela, Rio de la Plata, Cuba, the Levant (including Bulgaria, European Turkey, Asia Minor, Syria, and Egypt), China, Japan, Persia, Siam, and Laos. It has, besides, aided the missionary work of the various denominational societies in Germany, Sweden, Italy, Austria, Spain, Bengal, Madura, and Arcot; the Bible Societies of France and Russia; and the Evangelical Society of Geneva. The following details, from the last annual report, of the remittances to the Society's foreign agencies, as well as the aid rendered to missionary and Bible societies for work in foreign lands, will show that the managers have dispensed with a liberal hand the funds which have been intrusted to them:

To the agency in China		$18,584 12
" " the Levant		58,318 46
" " Japan		10,132 14
" " Mexico		16,737 91
" " Brazil		12,555 88
" " Cuba		2,641 55
" " Rio de la Plata		11,228 94
" " Central America		4,314 26

" " " " " Sweden		400 45
" " " " " Italy		77 20
" " " " " Bengal		150 00
" American Board for work in Austria		2,153 50
" " " " " Spain		698 44
" " " " " Madura		510 00

To the Reformed Church Arcot Mission	$280 00
" Bible Society of France	800 00
" Evangelical Society of Geneva	1,500 00
" Russian Bible Society	3,000 00

Besides these cash remittances, the value of the books which have been consigned and donated for foreign work during the year amounts in the aggregate to $25,830.97.

Home Work.—The operations of the Society in the United States are far more extensive than in foreign fields, but they can be but partially tabulated. The following figures will show what has been accomplished in efforts to supply the Scriptures to the destitute :

Families visited by the American Bible Society and its auxiliaries	533,967
Families found without the Scriptures	157,132
Destitute families supplied	34,102
" individuals in addition	24,626
Sunday schools supplied	1,087

The managers of the Society have during the past year employed every agency they could command for giving the Scriptures to all the nationalities in every part of this country in their own tongues. Auxiliary societies or Bible committees have been formed wherever it was practicable. Colporteurs have been employed, so far as the means of the Society would permit, to visit the waste places and supply every family which would receive it with a copy of the Scriptures.

Officers.—Managers are elected at the annual meeting of the Society, on the second Thursday of May. All the officers of the Society are appointed by the managers. The present list is as follows :

President, Enoch L Fancher, LL.D. ; Secretaries, Edward W. Gilman, D.D., Alexander McLean, D.D., Albert S. Hunt, D.D. ; Treasurer, William Foulke ; General Agent, Caleb T. Rowe ; Headquarters, Bible House, Astor Place, New York.

Correspondence.—Letters relating to the general work in the United States and foreign lands, requests for grants of books, and communications for the Bible Society Record, should be addressed to the Secretaries of the American Bible Society, Bible House,

Astor Place, New York. Letters transmitting funds, or relating to accounts, life memberships, and legacies, should be addressed to the Treasurer. Orders for Bibles and Testaments, the Bible Society Record, etc., should be addressed to the General Agent.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

THE Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was organized in Boston, Mass., March 23, 1869. It has just celebrated with much enthusiasm its "Silver Anniversary." Twenty-five thousand dollars was given on this occasion in the various branches as a thank offering. The Society is organized with eleven coordinate branches, with headquarters respectively in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Chicago, Minneapolis, Topeka, Des Moines, Los Angeles, and Portland, Ore.

The twenty-sixth session of the General Executive Committee, composed of the Corresponding Secretaries and two delegates from each branch, was held in Washington, D. C., from October 24 to November 2, 1894.

It has auxiliary societies in many foreign lands, through which converted heathen women contribute to spread the Gospel in distant places. The receipts for 1893-4 were $311,925.96—an advance of $34,622.17 beyond the previous year. The amount appropriated for 1894-5 is $323,688. Two hundred and fifty missionaries have been sent out by the Society since its organization—15 during the past year. The Society has no salaried officers.

Woman's Home Missionary Society.

THE aim of this organization is to enlist the women of the Church to aid the destitute of all races in the United States. It bases its work upon the idea that the home is the center of the influences determining the character of the people, and makes moral and industrial teaching an essential part of education. It was organized at Cincinnati, O., July, 1880, and was incorporated under the laws of Ohio, 1884. Its methods and successes are partially summarized as follows:

More than two thousand girls during the past year have been taught in its industrial homes and schools. In the fourteen years of its history the Society has trained several thousand girls for efficient missionary service. Cities more and more claim its attention. Ten years ago its entire income was expended in the South and West ; five years ago, one seventh in cities ; last year, three fifths ; for 1895 the appropriations show a proportionate increase. The Society has invested in property for mission work in the West about $50,000 ; in the South, $115,000 ; in cities, $175,000. Missionary workers in the West, 25 ; in the South, 43 ; including deaconesses, nearly 150 in cities.

The Society has industrial homes and schools at Jacksonville and Ocala, Fla ; Holly Springs and Clarkson, Miss. ; Little Rock, Ark. ; New Orleans, La. ; Marshall, Tex. ; Athens and Morristown, Tenn. ; Greensboro and Asheville, N. C. ; Atlanta and Savannah, Ga. ; and Orangeburg and Camden,

S. C. In the West it has industrial schools for Indians at Oonalaska, Alaska; Lynden, Wash.; Ukiah, Cal.; Pawnee, Ponca, and Pawhuska, Ok. Ter.; Dulce and Jewett, N. Mex.; for Spanish Americans at Albuquerque, Los Vegas, and Los Cruces, N. Mex.; and for Mormons at Salt Lake City, Logan, Provo, Maroni, Mt. Pleasant, Spring City, Ephraim, Richfield, Elsinore, Spanish Fort, San Pete Valley, and Grantsville.

Work in Cities.—The Glenn Industrial Home, at Cincinnati, includes three kindergartens and a school of domestic science. Immigrants' Homes are situated in Boston,* New York, and Philadelphia. The Society has a Bohemian Mission in Chicago, an Italian Mission in New Orleans, and a Mother's Jewels' Home, in York, Neb. The twenty-one missionaries in these do not include the workers in twelve deaconess homes, nor in the training school at Washington, D. C. The "Watts de Peyster Industrial Home and School," at Tivoli, N. Y., has come into the possession of the Society within the past year. It is the gift of General de Peyster, and will accommodate 150 pupils. It includes a farm of nine acres; the property is valued at $60,000. For list of deaconess homes, see page 94.

National Deaconess Convention.—The first midsummer gathering for consultation and encouragement in behalf of deaconess work, under the auspices of the Society, was held at Ocean Grove, August 6 and 7, 1894. Twelve Homes and Boards of Management were represented by 53 delegates. Bishops Bowman and Walden presided. It was determined to hold a similar convention annually.

Publications.—The Woman's Home Missions is edited and published at Delaware, O., by Mrs. H. C. McCabe and Miss M. Belle Evans. It has a circulation of 17,000, meets the expenses of its publication, and reports $800 surplus in the treasury. The Deaconess at Work, published at Washington for two years past, has been united with Home Missions; the paper, including the Deaconess Department, will be furnished for the same subscription price of twenty-five cents. Leaflets are in the charge of Mrs. E. E. Marcy, Evanston, Ill.

Finances.—The moneys of the Society are appropriated annually by a General Board, consisting of two delegates from each Conference, and the General Executive Board. The last financial report of the Society is as follows:

The action of the Board of Managers in 1893, by which the fiscal year closes on July 15, makes the last year include only nine months. The receipts for this period were $98,240.32, not including $65,000 in gifts of property. The total receipts for the nine months, including property and supplies, were $230,240.32. The Supplies Department has sent to ministers' families in the frontiers and to Sabbath schools goods estimated at $67,000.

The American University.

DURING the year 1894 considerable advancement has been made in the development of this great enterprise. The site of the University consists of 87 acres. This has cost $100,000, and has been provided for by the citizens of Washington. Within the past year two gifts of $100,000 each, endowing the departments of History and Science, have been received. The University has altogether received $250,000 in this time; one half of this amount was in cash or its equivalent, and the balance in good subscriptions and agreements. Much more is within the sight of those in charge of the enterprise.

The plans for the laying out of the 87 acres of campus are nearly completed, and studies for several buildings are well under way. Frederick Law Olmsted has in charge the development of the grounds. The trustees have decided that the time for building has come, and that during the year 1895 one or two buildings shall be erected. These will be but the beginning of a series of fifteen or twenty halls that must before long house the facilities for university work at the capital of the nation. The Asbury Memorial Hall fund, which has been subscribed by min-

The Epworth League.

THE rapid growth of this organization is one of the remarkable facts in the history of our great Methodism. On May 15, 1889, it was formed at Cleveland, O., by the consolidation of the Oxford League, the Young People's Methodist Alliance, the Young People's Christian Alliance, the Young People's Union, and the North Ohio Conference Methodist Episcopal Alliance; in five years it has come to number 13,500 regular chapters, with an auxiliary of 3,000 chapters in the Junior League, and a membership of over 900,000. The increase of chapters in 1894 was more than 2,500.

During 1894 the work of the different departments was well sustained. The sale of prayer meeting topics was larger than ever before. The Epworth League Bible Studies preparatory to devotional meetings were issued, and were justified by their sales. The missionary appeal from the first vice president, for contributions to the Missionary Society, met with a hearty response. The Mercy and Help departments interested themselves in hospital and deaconess work. The first booklet of the League at Work Series was issued for the social department. The sale of the Reading Course books was most gratifying; and the subscription to the Epworth Herald was so increased that the paper is read by more young people than ever before. A secretary has been appointed for India and Malaysia; and charters will be issued from his office in India, and reported to the central office at Chicago. This plan will soon be followed in other foreign countries. During the coming year the League will use the same prayer meeting topics and Bible studies as the Leagues of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Church of Canada.

superannuated ministers. They seek to create and educate a public sentiment that will insure throughout the whole Church a better support for veterans worn out in the service. All effort is under the direction of the Annual Conferences and in their interests. All money raised will be left on the spot where it is raised; and it will go through the local church treasury to the Annual Conference, toward the annual collection, or toward the Permanent Fund of the Conference, as the church may elect. The Corresponding Secretary is furnished to the Board of Trustees of the Chartered Fund, to act as their agent, without compensation. This gives the Association the care of the great Connectional Veterans' Fund, and enables it to fill the place of a general department of the Church in the interest of the Conference claimants of the whole Church.

Albany, Boston, Bridgeport, Conn., Brooklyn, Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Grand Rapids, Mich., Jersey City, Newark, N. J., New York city, Paterson, N. J., San Francisco, Washington, D. C., Worcester, Mass.

Deaconess Work.

In the Methodist Episcopal Church the work of deaconesses was first utilized in Germany, where it was largely patterned after that of the Lutheran Church. In America the work originated independently, in an effort to apply the service of Christian women to the needs of the vast city fields. The first home was organized at Chicago in 1887 ; the work was recognized and legalized by the General Conference of 1888; in December, 1888, the second home was established at Cincinnati, O., and from that time the growth of the movement has been rapid.

Departments of Work.—The lines of work in which deaconesses are employed have been specified as follows:

(1) House-to-house visitation. The visiting deaconesses are usually associated with a pastor. They call on the sick, on probationers, children, and others needing oversight. (2) Nursing. The Chicago home alone has sent out trained nurses to care for more than a thousand sick poor at their homes, accompanying this service with gifts of medicine, food, and clothes in many cases. Several deaconess hospitals have been organized, and deaconesses are also serving in others not entirely under the control of the movement. (3) Work in kindergartens and kitchengardens among poor children. (4) Service in industrial schools of all kinds. (5) Prison and police station work. (6) Work in orphanages, a deaconess orphanage having been established in Chicago* as an auxiliary to the home there.

Foreign Work.—Deaconess service is proving exceptionally well adapted to the requirements of the foreign field. In India the work has the hearty sanction and the wise oversight of the resident bishop. In China money has been donated for a large building at Chungking, and the work there will be opened soon.

The National Conference.—This body was organized in the fall of 1888, and has since held annual meetings. Its decisions are only recommendatory, but as the body is representative its decisions have usually been followed, and have largely molded the movement. It is the only body that makes the effort to gather together representatives from all the homes. The officers of this organization are as follows:

President, Bishop I. W. Joyce, Chattanooga; First Vice President, Rev. Louis Nippert, Cincinnati; Second Vice President, J. N. Gamble, Cincinnati; Third Vice President, S. W. Bowne, New York; Recording Secretary, E. S. Tipple, Ph.D., New York; Assistant Recording Secretary, Miss Pauline J. Walden, Boston; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Lucy Rider

National Association of Local Preachers.

THIS organization began in 1858, and was incorporated in Maryland, January 12, 1883. It holds annual sessions, and has for its objects the advance of education, the promotion of temperance, and the fostering of a beneficiary scheme for the relief of its aged and indigent members. The Association is composed of delegates chosen by local and Conference Associations, who have the exclusive right of voting on all questions where a yea and nay vote is taken; and of local preachers attending and enrolling, though not delegates, who may participate in the business and vote on all questions, except where a yea and nay vote is demanded. The present membership of the Association is 280. The last session was held in Simpson Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., October 6–9, 1894.

The Itinerants' Club.

THIS movement was first proposed in the Methodist Review in 1889, and has stimulated many Conferences to more thorough examinations. It is the aim of the organization "to promote the good work of ministerial education, especially as it applies to the training of Methodist Episcopal preachers who have not enjoyed the advantages of either college or theological seminary." It is also the object of the Club to encourage "the prosecution of advanced studies by pastors who have already passed the Conference or other theological courses of study." A large number of the "Itinerants' Clubs" and "Ministerial Institutes" have been held in various parts of the country. In December, 1894, two Clubs were held, the one in Topeka, Kan., the other in Des Moines, Ia. The time was in part devoted to conversations on practical topics, such as the "Promotion of the Critical and Spiritual Study of the Holy Scriptures," "The Conduct of Public Worship," "The Care of Childhood and Youth," "The Promotion of Congregational Singing," "The Increase of Pulpit Effectiveness," "The Wise Prosecution of Pastoral Service," "The Consolatory Functions of the Pastor," "Common Sense in Elocution," "Different Methods of Public Speech," and "The Philosophy of Gesture."

Sunday School Associations.

It is possible that a considerable number of these organizations are in existence throughout the Church. Two only have been reported for publication, as follows:

At Cincinnati.—The organization was formed some four years since, and is called "The Cincinnati Methodist Episcopal Sunday School Association." It has an annual union picnic, and holds socials, where appropriate papers are read.

At San Francisco.—The objects of this Association are to establish new schools, to provide union gatherings of Sunday school workers, and in general to create a deeper interest in Sunday school work. It is termed the "Sunday School Workers' Council." Its officers are:

President, William Abbott; Secretary, A. R. Over; Treasurer, W. P. Higginbotham; Executive Committee, C. B. Perkins, C. A. Maydwell, J. H. Baker, E. E. Newton, and the foregoing officers.

College Presidents' Association.

The annual meeting of this organization was held at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., November 21 and 22, 1894. The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

The next meeting of the Association will be held at the Ohio Wesleyan University, the week preceding Thanksgiving, 1895.

The University Senate.

THIS body was authorized by the General Conference of 1892, their duties being to "determine the minimum equivalent of academic work in our Church institutions for graduation to the baccalaureate degree." No meeting of this body has been held since its session at Syracuse, N. Y., in November, 1893. The Senate, as appointed by the bishops, is composed of the following members:

At Large, W. F. Warren, D.D., Boston, Mass. District I, B. P. Bowne, D.D., Boston, Mass.; II, B. P. Raymond, D.D., Middletown, Conn.; III, C. N. Sims, D.D., Syracuse, N. Y.; IV, J. F. Semiofficial and Unofficial Weeklies.

VARIOUS Methodist publications issued in the United States under the direction of associations or as private enterprises are included in the following list. The necessity of abbreviation compels the limitation of this list to weekly publications, and excludes many important monthlies, bimonthlies, and quarterlies that would be included in a fuller classification:

Methodist Ministers' Relief Association.

This Association was organized under the laws of Massachusetts, May 1, 1878, for the purpose of assisting the widows and orphans or other dependents of deceased Methodist preachers. During the sixteen years of its existence it has paid the sum of $218,259 for the above purpose. The protection thus given has been of untold value to the afflicted families. There are now about fifteen hundred members of the Association. Among them may be named Bishops Vincent, Mallalieu, and Goodsell, the two missionary secretaries of the Church, and others prominent in the ministry. None are received over fifty years of age, and a strict medical examination is required. Methodist ministers in all the Church who are not over fifty years of age, and who can pass the medical examination, are eligible. J. H. Mansfield, D.D., of Boston, Mass., has been clerk of this Association since its organization.

Annual Conference Relief Organizations.

In addition to the society known as the "Methodist Ministers' Relief Association," and noticed above, the general record may be made of the organizations existing in many of the Annual Conferences, whose design is the relief of the families of deceased ministers. Some of them are of long existence, and have accumulated considerable endowments and other funds for the object designed. It is not possible to enumerate in detail these many organizations.

General Information.

Think naught a trifle, though it small appear;
Small sands the mountain, moments make the year,
And trifles life.—Young.

Young Men's Christian Association.

THIS organization works along educational, physical, social, economic, and religious lines, and seeks to adapt its methods to all classes of young men. It was organized in London, June 6, 1844; introduced into America, at Montreal and Boston, December, 1851; first convention of English-speaking Associations at Buffalo in 1854; first World's Conference at Paris in 1855. Only young men are admitted to its membership, which is active and associate. The latter class is entitled to all advantages; but active members, who must be members in good standing in an evangelical Church, may alone vote and hold office.

Latest Statistics.—The most recent figures representing the progress of the Association are as follows:

Number of Associations in North America, 1,397; in the world, 5,109. The American Associations have a total membership of 232,653; own property valued at $15,211,039, including 291 buildings; have 789 reading rooms, and 638 libraries containing 476,572 volumes. Lectures in the past year, 4,795. In 304 Associations 20,253 different students attended evening classes. King's Daughters and Sons.

This order is composed of thousands of small circles of men, women and children united in a central organization numbering over three hundred thousand members. It is religious and interdenominational; its members may be found in all Churches and in almost all nations. It was founded by ten women in New York city, on January 13, 1886; it has spread over nearly every State, and has its representatives in Canada, England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Italy, Germany, India, China, Japan, Turkey in Europe and in Asia, Australia, New Zealand, and other countries. Its members are bound to serve the needy and the suffering, and to be generally helpful in good work. Each circle may choose its own field of labor, but cannot escape the obligations of service. The badge, a small cross of silver bearing the letters

I. H. N. on one side, and the date, 1886, on the other, is often worn with a knot of purple ribbon. The order is an incorporated society, of which this cross is the seal. State secretaries are appointed in twenty-five States and in the District of Columbia; there are also six provincial secretaries in the various provinces of Canada. The order issues a monthly magazine called The Silver Cross, which takes a high rank among religious and philanthropic periodicals. The headquarters are at 158 West Twenty-third Street, New York city.

The Central Council.—The original circle of ten women with some additions form the Central Council of the order. The general officers are members of this Council. Its officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. Margaret Bottome; Vice President, Miss Kate Bond; General Secretary, Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickinson; Treasurer, Miss Margaret P. Barker; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Robert Sturgis; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Isabella Charles Davis.

The National League for the Protection of American Institutions.

THIS absolutely nonpartisan and unsectarian organization was incorporated December 24, 1889. Its objects are "to secure constitutional and legislative safeguards for the protection of the common school system and other American Institutions, and to promote public instruction in harmony with such institutions, and to prevent all sectarian or denominational appropriations of public funds." Of its labors to prevent the use of public money for sectarian purposes the following is the record to date:

Its proposed Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, forbidding the use of public money for sectarian purposes, was introduced into both Houses of Congress, January 18, 1892, and referred to the Committees on the Judiciary. After five years of educational and aggressive work on the matter of sectarian appropriations by the national government for Indian education, the League has secured the indorsement of its proposed form of a Sixteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution by the highest representative bodies of the Protestant Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal South, Baptist, Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, and Congregational Churches. It has also secured the withdrawal of the Protestant Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist Episcopal, and Congregational Churches, and the Orthodox Friends from consent to receive appropriations by Congress for sectarian Indian education. It has secured action on the part of the United States Senate, which promises a speedy settlement of this important question. Twenty-four States now contain constitutional prohibitions against a division of the Common School fund, and against sectarian appropriations. Seventeen of these States have either adopted or reaffirmed such amendments to their organic law since the movement for an amendment to the United States Constitution was initiated. The various American patriotic orders, representing over four millions of voters, have given the Sixteenth Amendment hearty indorsement, and have accepted the League's platform of principles. In the State of New York Constitutional Convention, after a spirited campaign, a great and decisive victory was won under the League's leadership. The amendments adopted by the Convention, and afterward ratified by the people, as to education and charities contain :

1. A constitutional recognition of the American principle of the separation of the functions of Church and State.

2. This principle is applied without qualification to the free public school system by the adoption of sweeping provisions which will thoroughly protect the common school fund from division.

3. Sectarian and private charitable institutions which receive public money are subjected to a State Board possessing absolute powers, limited only by legislative action.

4. The State Leigslature is not required, but permitted, under restrictions, to make appropriations to these sectarian and private charities ; but such appropriations, if made, must be, not by special legislation, but by the enactment of general laws.

All that heretofore has been done is largely preparatory for the chief struggle yet to come, in adding to the Constitution of the United States the proposed Sixteenth Amendment. It is also needful to work for the insertion, in the remaining defective State Constitutions, of provisions in conformity with these patriotic principles.

Evangelical Alliance for the United States.

THE purpose of this organization is "the furtherance of religious opinion with the intent to manifest and strengthen Christian unity, and to promote religious liberty and cooperation in Christian work without interfering with the internal affairs of the different denominations." The World's Evangelical Alliance was formed at London in 1846. The American Alliance was organized in January, 1867, and incorporated under the laws of New York, June, 1885. The Alliance has done much in behalf of the rights of conscience in many lands. It also seeks to bring different denominations into active cooperation in practical Christian work, thus exemplifying applied Christianity. Further information as to the general purposes of the Alliance may be obtained by application to the General Secretary.

Officers.—The officers of the Alliance for the year 1895 are the following:

President, William E. Dodge; General Secretary, Josiah Strong, D.D.; Treasurer, Peter Donald. General Office, 511 United Charities Building, Fourth Avenue, corner Twenty-second Street, New York, N. Y.

It originated with the Methodist Episcopal General Conference of 1888, in New York city, and was incorporated December, 1890. The Presbyterian General Assemblies, North and South, and the Methodist Episcopal General Conference, South, heartily indorsed the Union in May, 1894. Its publications are being widely distributed. The effort is being made to organize cooperative Sabbath associations in all the States. The present year closes without indebtedness. Enlarged plans are proposed for future work.

The Open and Institutional Church League.

THIS organization was formed March 27, 1894. It aims to develop the spirit of ministration in the modern church, and to bring into association those seeking to express that spirit through special adaptations of the churches to the needs of the community as well as of individual life. As stated in its platform, "it stands for open church doors every day and all the day, free seats, a plurality of Christian workers, the personal activity of all church members, a ministry to all the community through educational, reformatory, and philanthropic channels," to the end that men may be won to Christ, and the Church brought back to the simplicity and comprehensiveness of its primitive life. The second convention was held in Boston, at Berkeley Temple, October 31, 1894. The officers are:

President, C. A. Dickinson, D.D., Boston; Vice Presidents, C. L. Thompson, D.D., New York; Rev. E. D. Burr, Boston; Rev. C. S. Mills, Cleveland, O.; Josiah Strong, D.D., New York; W. E. The New York Tribune

FOREMOST OF AMERICAN WEEKLIES.

Circulation 168,000 Copies a Week.

First to rally from the overwhelming defeat of 1892, THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE confidently declared the results which would follow Democratic ascendency, and has patiently labored for two years to awaken the sleeping patriotism and judgment of the Nation. Possessing an enormous circulation, equipped with a staff of competent and honest students of public questions, and itself having no object to serve except the welfare of the great masses who earn their daily bread upon the farms and in the shops and stores, scorning lies and sensational appeals, and satisfied merely to place the truth before its readers, THE TRIBUNE has sent to half a million earnest and reflecting people, weekly, a budget of honest facts, sensible arguments and friendly suggestions, which have at last borne fruit in the elections of 1894. The work of the people is, however, only half done. It is necessary in 1896 to place in the Chair which Grover Cleveland has not adorned a constructive statesman of the Republican faith. To this task THE TRIBUNE now addresses itself, and invites the support of every American citizen whose intelligence, patriotism, and regard for his own interests lead him to desire a return to the "good old times."

Roswell G. Horr, ex-Congressman from Michigan, but now of New York city, will continue to discuss Tariff, Currency, Coinage, and Labor questions in THE TRIBUNE. By all odds the most witty, earnest, and well-informed speaker of the Republican Party upon the stump, he is every year sent by THE TRIBUNE to aid the local campaigns in every part of the country. He keeps in constant touch with the people, knows their wants, and addresses himself in THE TRIBUNE directly to the thoughts which are in their minds, and makes himself understood. He will gladly answer questions, asked in good faith, by the readers of THE TRIBUNE.

All the regular features of THE TRIBUNE will be continued. For Western readers a special array of Western news is supplied. For Eastern readers an Eastern edition is printed. It is the intention to make the paper especially helpful to farmers and mechanics. Each class has its separate department in THE TRIBUNE; and the new inventions of mechanics, who lack the means to exploit the product of their brains, are advertised free of charge in the hope of aiding them to find a purchaser or a partner. The market reports of THE TRIBUNE, long acknowledged to be the best in the country, will maintain their old standard; and the usual variety of foreign news letters, essays upon home topics, book reviews, articles on chess and checkers, and miscellany, will be presented every week. The editorial pages of the paper sum up the most important news of the day, with comment. THE TRIBUNE also prints, for the ladies, the very latest fashions from Paris and London, and there is a department of "Answers to Questions," conducted by a capable writer, in which all the questions of the people on miscellaneous topics are carefully answered.

The Semi-Weekly TRIBUNE contains all the features of The Weekly, and has the advantage of printing twice as much matter every week. It is an incomparable paper for residents who live beyond the range of The Daily TRIBUNE.

Any friend of the THE TRIBUNE in any part of the country is cordially invited to send for sample copies and terms, and make up a club of subscribers. We would be especially pleased to see a large circle of readers in every workshop.

The Weekly, $1; The Semi-Weekly, $2; The Daily TRIBUNE, $10 a year. The Tribune Almanac for 1895, ready in January, 25 cents a copy.

NEW MUSIC.

NEW RESPONSES.

NEW SONGS.

The Exhaustive Concordance of the Bible.

By JAMES STRONG, S.T.D., LL.D.

CONTAINING

1. A Complete Concordance of the King James Version of the English Bible. Every word of both the Old and New Testaments is cited, and every occurrence of each word in its order. This is not true of any English Concordance heretofore published.

2. A Comparative Concordance, noting all the variations from the King James Version in the New Revision; and also indicating the source of these variations—whether they were made by the English or by the American revisers, or accepted by both.

3. A Hebrew-Chaldee and a Greek Lexicon, containing a complete vocabulary of these languages as used by the sacred writers, and, by an ingenious system of numerical references, enabling the English reader to find, pronounce, and get the force of the very word which the inspired writer used to convey his thought.

IT is the only complete Concordance of the Common English Bible, as a brief comparison with any other will immediately prove. Every previous Concordance, from Cruden to Young, omits many words and very many passages altogether; this exhibits every word, and every passage in which each occurs. . . . . .
